今天，有朋友回來，不再沉迷飲食，我們做些健健康康的活動，在長頸鹿園裏打極也。
A friend of mine has just come back to HK, instead of indulging ourselves in food & drink, we tried some healthier activities, in HK Zoo, & Botanic Garden.

這樣全場，我們都是最年青的。

MAYBE, WE WERE THE YOUNGEST AMONG THOSE WHO

PLAYED TAI CHI IN THE GARDEN.

然後，我們來到這裏，一起做這本書...
THEN WE CAME HERE (ACCIDENTALLY) AND MADE THE BOOK TOGETHER...

Skyscrapers tower in huts hide, people like ants scurrying With pets.

Busy buses busy them selves to people with sudden warmth, pavements slither like a super long snakes.

Trees like giant broccoli everywhere.

Lights on towers like shining stars.

Harbours glittering so brightly.

Doors yawning like welcoming people.

People ~~start~~ start a new day.

THE PRINCE AND THE PRINCESS

16:50

Once upon a time there lived a Prince and a Princess. They had to go to a ball. They had games all the afternoons. They had dinner there. The Prince got the food. The Princess was getting teddy bears. When they finished their dinner they played more games.

It was so nice. They went dancing. They were so happy. They slept at two o'clock in the morning.

and they lived happily ever after.

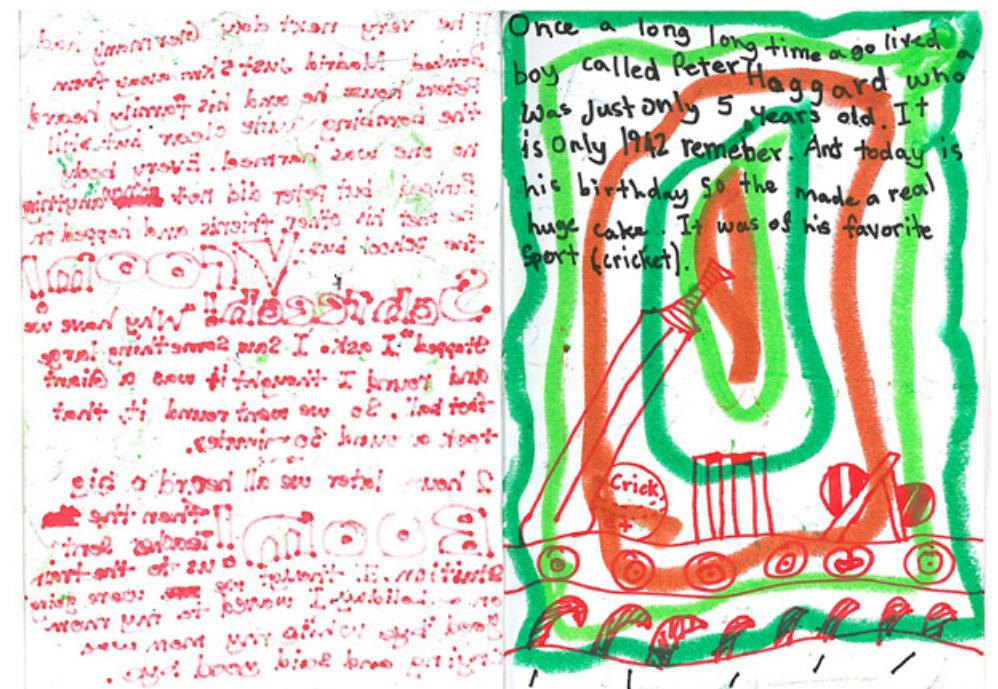

16:50

The very next day Germany had bombed Madrid just 5 km away from Peters house he and his family heard the bombing quite clear but still no one was harmed. Every body paniced but Peter did not ~~do~~ anything he met his other friends and hopped on the school bus.

Vrooom!
Schreech! "Why have we stopped", I ask. I saw something large and round I thought it was a giant football. So we went round it, that took around 30 minutes.

2 hours later we all heard a big BOOM Then the teacher sent us to the train station. I thought we were going on a holiday. I waved to my mom good bye while my mom was crying and said good bye.

Tilly Fickler was an orphan who lived in a horrible orphanage in Hong Kong. Every child was forced to work while the owners of the orphanage bosses everyone around, to put it bluntly life was miserable. Enough about that we must carry on. On this particular day the orphanage owners felt meaner than usual they made poor Tilly do the shopping in IFC. Well, Tilly was wandering around looking for a lift when she found a door that looked exactly like the wall which was probably why no one saw it & then she decided to open the door and there was the lift!! With a sigh of relief she went in and pressed a button ~~up~~^{and} she wanted to get to her floor. Going shopping made her think of a time that she went shopping with her parents then that made her wish she could live with them again. Apparently the lift was a wishing lift so if you ever wished & in that lift it would come true. The world seemed to freeze & nothing could be heard. Suddenly the lift walls turned into a huge TV showing the location of Tilly's real parents. Tilly was overjoyed and ran.

as fast as she could back to the orphanage with out the shopping but she didn't care. When she got back she got in big trouble and got locked in her room. unharmed Tilly quickly got to her feet and packed her bags as fas as she could, jumped out the window and went to her parents house Knocked on the door and there stood her parents her parents were so happy they celebrated by going to Hong Kong disneyland and Tilly was never sad again.

A long time ago in Hong Kong,
There was a rusty old orphanage.
There was a ~~tiny~~ little girl named ANNYSa Anders who liked to be called AA, lived in the orphanage.
~~tiny~~ Every day, She had to do all the chores, So one day She Went to Hong Kong Park.
And AA ~~had~~ found a red flower that seemed to glow; and it granted her Every wish.
She ~~wish~~ wished that she would have a Mom or Dad.
Then days past and she got a job in a restaurant.
The people who ~~own~~ owned the restaurant were very nice.
So they ~~adot~~ adopted AA.

to the clock tower
of Old Central Pier
-Sail onward, Star Ferry, Sally forth across Harbour Victoria
land us at the destination,
where 50 years of our memories
lie. She shall no longer hear nor feel, the tightening hawsers, the sea-faring sirens.
Only in our dreams,
of every child or youth,
will her clear, plaintive chimes
of her clock tower be heard.
We long to ring the bells of the clock tower, let the smoke from the ferrys, fulfill our pier again.
